

The McCook Tribune.

Monday Evening Edition

THIRTIETH YEAR.

McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 29, 1912.

NUMBER 97.

Continued Until Tonight.

The city council held sessions, Friday and Saturday evenings to hear the remonstrances filed against the issuance of liquor licenses in this city. The hearing so far has covered the cases of five of the applicants. This evening the council will again meet in adjourned session to complete the hearing, and will then, no doubt, render a decision in the matter. As the voters at the last city election decided in no uncertain tone that they favored the issuance of saloon licenses, and as the hearing has not disclosed anything more detrimental, has not brought to light conditions different than those usually existing in cities and towns where saloons operate, it is not difficult or dangerous to prophesy that applications will be granted. As to the motif, and personnel of the remonstrators, it is only charitable to use the amplest folds of a broad mantle of charity and let the matter go at that.

Meeting of Fire Dept.

There will be a called meeting of the city fire department in the city hall on Wednesday evening, May 1st, at 8 o'clock, to meet with the fire committee and to transact other business of importance. All members are requested to be present.

By Order of Fire Chief.

THREE FARM HOUSES ARE DESTROYED BY TORNADO

Mr. and Mrs. William Parrish of Near Bartley Are Severely Injured.

SMALL TERRITORY COVERED BY THE STORM

No Lives Lost and the Damage, Fortunately, Will Not be Very Large—Injured Ones Are Getting Along Nicely.

Three farm houses were destroyed by tornado which swept over the territory between Bartley and Cambridge, Thursday afternoon last, at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The tornado started near Bartley, a little south and east of that place and moved toward Cambridge, but when within a short distance of Cambridge, about three miles, the storm clouds were dissipated and broke up, and no further damage was done.

The dwelling and farm buildings on the Parrish farm, southeast of Bartley were destroyed, and both Mr. and Mrs. William Parrish were seriously injured.

The farm buildings on the Fred Lohmeyer place were demolished, Mr. Lohmeyer and family escaping injury by retiring into a cave just before the storm broke upon them. Emerson Ayton, a rural mail carrier from Cambridge, also saved himself from injury by going into the cave with the Lohmeyer family.

Miss Kate Kelly of Cambridge was visiting in the storm district at the time of the storm and was somewhat injured—not severely, however.

The county commissioners and H. N. Rosebush of this city were out in that immediate neighborhood during the storm looking over some county work, and all sought shelter, but Mr. Rosebush noted the progress of the storm, which he states, developed in the form of two distinct small cyclones, of great power and vigor and swept things before them, one following the other in quick succession.

Here in the city, it was necessary to use electric lights during the rain and hail storm, which prevailed here about the time of the storm at other points. But no damage was caused here.

Goes to Rochester, Minn.

Rev. R. T. Bayne.

Rev. Reed Taft Bayne, pastor of First Congregational church of our city offered his resignation to the church here, yesterday, and the same was reluctantly accepted. Rev. Bayne has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Congregational church of Rochester, Minnesota, which work he will take up about July 1st.

Rochester is a splendid city of about 10,000 population, of great refinement, culture and wealth, and made famous besides as the home of the celebrated surgeons, the Mayo brothers.

The Congregational church of that city has a membership more than double the McCook church and pays a salary $500 in excess. We congratulate Rev. Bayne upon this splendid opportunity.

BASE BALL GAMES BY McCOOK HIGH.

Won From Cambridge Last Friday in a Jog.

The McCook high school won from Cambridge high school last Friday afternoon, with ease, in a score of 7 to 4. Cambridge failed to come up to the usual good form of teams sent out by that town, and McCook boys put up a rather superior sort of ball.

The game at Stratton for Saturday had to be postponed on account of the rain storm, and the threatened tornado. It became very dark as the storm approached the town and people made for cover, but the storm did not prove destructive, but considerable rain fell.

Liberty Brush, $350.00

F. O. B. Detroit. Everyman's car explains in a nut shell just what the Brush is; but its name even though full of meaning does not give enough detailed information. In every way, from every point of view, the Brush is the logical successor of the horse and buggy as means of transportation for the physician, salesman farmer, R. F. D. carrier and the women folks. These are only a few of the many people who are using the Brush for both business and pleasure. The Brush is especially adapted to your needs. If interested ask for demonstration.
